

REGATTA

BY L'ÉPÉE 1839 x L'ÉCAL

Inspiration

Very few sports, or indeed very few human activities, merit the term 'graceful' as much as does sculling. Long, streamlined craft cutting the water like a stiletto and leaving barely a ripple are among the most elegant forms of human displacement on earth. And that sense of grace conceals both the incredible power of the oarsman and the arrow-like precision of their craft.

L'Épée 1839 harnesses and pays homage to the grace of sculling with La Regatta, a sleek vertical clock invoking the shape of the long thin scull, with both the power and precision of the most elegant of watch sports.

With many elements recalling the nautical world, La Regatta is truly an artistic sculpture with a less definitive design.

Compared to other L'Épée 1839 pieces, Regatta occupies space differently with its elegant long shape.

Our modern lives are often busy and, at times, even chaotic, La Regatta invokes a sense of peace and calm.
